

PTQG General Meeting - Christmas Party
December 5, 2017

Call to Order: Susie Hardy at 6:05

Announcements:

Maggie Glassoff said her recipe binders are at the back of the room. If you find a recipe you would like put a post-it note (supplied) on the page and she'll get the recipe to you.

Jean Marie McDonald has opportunity quilt tickets for members to sell.

Diane Klose needs volunteers to show and sell tickets for the opportunity quilt: January 8 (Diablo Guild) and January 18 (Orville Guild). Please see her if you can help.

Pat Gillings, Treasurer, reported that receipts need to be turned in by December 31st 2017 to received payment.

Lorna Straka and Kathy Biggi are delivering quilts tomorrow to 16 children whose homes burned. They will also take quilts to 120 school children in Ukiah.

Lynda Lasich announced that the quilt show challenge is "America the Beautiful". The maximum size is 60 wide by 60 long. The quilts don't have to be red/white/blue. This is not political, just Beautiful quilts.

Lori Jacobi showed a quilt made by a resident of the area, Florence Mettler Gram, who passed away at 97.

Marjorie McConnell has a need of a quilt for a short time.

Marta Price reminded us that dues ($30) are being collected.

Attendance for tonight: 59 members and 1 guest.

Budget Vote passed. Lois Hodges called for the question and Nancy Holtz seconded the motion.

By-laws Vote passed. Marjorie McConnell called for the question and Marta Price gave a second.

Two Hall of Honor recipients were honored with a plaque: Marjorie McConnell and Kris Cook.

Diane Klose presented Susie Hardy, the outgoing president, with quilt squares made by members to thank her for her work this year. Any more quilt squares can be given to Susie.

Soup Cook-off winners were a tie for the heartiest: #1 Jill Schlagetor's Sausage Kale and # 9 Phyllis Brodie's Pumpkin Bisque. The winner for the most unusual was Jane Dunnington's Split Pea soup. The winner for the best overall soup was Holly Miner for her Butternut Squash soup.

Sweater Contest winners were #13 Carol Gates for the Bling-e-est; #9 Ruth Bertaccini for the prettiest and #16 Joy Waggener for the best homemade.

Reminders:

Board Meeting December 14th.

Remember to update your binders and be ready to pass them on to the new chairs.

No Community Service or Home Workshop this month.

Next General Meeting is January 2nd in the Grass Valley Charter School.

Adjourned at 7:30.
