

Pine Tree Quilt Guild General Meeting
November 7, 2017

Call to Order: Susie Hardy at 6:30.

Introduction: Kathy Mack and Pat Gullett showed and sold raffle tickets for the Opportunity Quilt from the River City Quilt Guild.

Announcements: Susie Hardy

1. Anne Wilson, not present at the meeting, will answer questions regarding the 2018 budget. She can be reached by phone or email. (530)_274-1290
annewquilts@gmail.com
2. Home workshops, for the 2018 year, will be run by Teresa Finn and Bonnie Lattin-Hensel.
3. Hospitality will be run by Susie Hardy next year.
4. Mystery Gifts will be run by Lorna Straka and Kathy Biggi.
5. The open positions for the guild are on the easel.

General Announcements:

Pat from the River City Quilt Guild told about her guild's raffle. The winner has a choice of a quilt or a sewing machine. There is also a small quilt hanging that will be raffled at the end of the evening for those who bought their raffle tickets at the meeting.

Linda Lasich said the theme of the quilt show will be "America the Beautiful". The challenge will also be "America the Beautiful".

Sharon Alves further said the challenge quilts can only be 60" on a side. All the quilt show chairpersons need assistants.

Sophia Day will be collecting the President's quilt square for Diane Klose.

The Holiday Party is December 5th at the SDA Church. It will be a soup cook off. She will take sign-ups.

It is time to nominate the featured quilter for the 2019 year. Forms will be at the back during the break.

Jean Marie McDonald spoke for Diane Klose who was showing the Opportunity Quilt.

Jean has member tickets for the Opportunity Quilt.

There will be a booth (free to us) at the Thanksgiving Day craft show at the Fair Grounds. We will be showing our Opportunity Quilt and selling raffle tickets. Contact Diane Klose if you can do a 3 hour shift.

Lois Hodges reminded all about the quilt challenge for the March Meeting. The title is “Women. the good, the bad, and the beautiful”.

Raedean Kidwell, program chair for the 2018 year, told of upcoming speakers for our general meetings and the workshops planned for the following day.

Christine Barnes will be the speaker for January and will have a workshop where participants will study transparencies and make 4 transparencies. on paper.

In February's workshop participants will make Heidi's Emmett's vest.

Lorna Straka introduced Teresa Finn and Bonnie Lattin-Hensel who will facilitate the Home Workshops next year.

Kathy Biggi told of the need in Northern California for quilts to be given to school kids who were burned out. The “We Care” group reaches out to schools in fire areas. There was a great article in the Union paper telling what they do and who they serve. .

Naomi Cook reminded the membership of Ben Franklin's open house on Saturday.

Marta Price related that 87 members were present and 3 guests and one new member.

Patchwork Star: Jeanie Ferguson introduced Maggie Glassoff who she interviewed as this month’s Patchwork Star recipient. Margie showed some of her beautiful quilts and told of her two binders, one with recipes for Pumpkin pies and the other with Fruitcake recipes.

Show and Tell:

Break until 7:30.

Drawings: Quarter Yard Club and the Mystery Gifts

Guest Speaker:

Raedean Kidwell introduced Lynn Wilder whose lecture “The Geography of a Quilt” kept us all laughing.

Respectfully submitted,
Bonnie Lattin-Hensel